

Hayley Westenra, Through These Eyes

(Davies)

Everyone, we all have dreams,
A wish is all you need it seems.
How many of these dreams will come true?
See, I believe in many things,
A wish can be the smallest thing.
A smile on a face, or hand to guide you through.
When wizards seem to be riding with those genies
And no carpet rides for free.
That's when I believe dreams come true,
Through these eyes.

Through these eyes it's love that we need
For love is a wish that's granted for free.
It opens the heart for those who believe
So open your mind and see what I see
Through these eyes

It's not that we should disbelieve
In magic books or fantasy.
Love is a potion so take it upon yourself
And wizards you will be
No need to look for genies
taking carpet rides for free
That's when you'll believe dreams come true
Through these eyes.

Through these eyes it's love that we need
For love is a wish that's granted for free.
It opens the heart for those who believe
So open your mind and see what I see
Through these eyes

Through these eyes.

(instrumental break)

And wizards you will be
No need to look for genies
taking carpet rides for free
The magic wand will always stay alive
And it's then you see dreams come true
Through these eyes

Through these eyes it's love that we need
For love is a wish that's granted for free.
It opens the heart for those who believe
So open your mind and see what I see
Through these eyes

Through these eyes it's love that we need
For love is a wish that's granted for free.
It opens the heart for those who believe
So open your mind and see what I see
Through these eyes

Through these eyes it's love that we need
For love is a wish that's granted for free.
It opens the heart for those who believe
So open your mind and see what I see
Through these eyes

Through these eyes it's love that we need

For love is a wish that's granted for free.
It opens the heart for those who believe
So open your mind and see what I see