

Headnoise, War

The battle continues, the fight is within you,
there will never be a truce surrender is the only end to WAR!
You don't have to wait till they've dropped the bomb to wail in a cold dark lost land,
we're blinded by comfort to see past the haze that this world has gone to the dogs.
From war to war death and genocide, we've fought for money, power, and lies, but the war we fight now rages deep inside, it's God against man spiritual suicide

The battle continues, the fight is within you,
there will never be a truce surrender is the only end to WAR!
You don't have to wait till they've dropped the bomb to wail in a cold dark lost land,
we're blinded by comfort to see past the haze that this world has gone to the dogs.
Freedom and peace or death and strife, eternity a decision made in this life, your freewill is choice now you must decide, that freedom to choose expires when you die.

WAR, WAR IN THE HEART THERE'S WAR!

There is one war that can end today, your war with God, with others, with yourself, his trip to Calvary where he was murdered for our sins,
is the reason that this is possible,
Jesus is alive, Jesus is life itself, he brings life to dead hearts.
End the war within!
