

Headstone Epitaph, Equality

[Tim: actually a song from 1992. With new lyrics.]

[Inspired by my distinctive Feeling for equity.]

[vers:]

you can't beat the rhythm of my heart you can't declare your aim you want to rule the world on your own it does not mean the same you missuse the law as a punishment for the people you don't like you don't let them up
you don't defend no you don't let them strike

[ref:]

we are the people you don't like to see
although you promise equality

[vers:]

why can't you take me as i am why can't you leave me be i wanna be the person that i am wanna be the real me

[ref:]

although you promise equality

[vers:]

we all want to be free
for all eternity
until the end of time something in my heart just cries don't want to hear your alibies hope this is Your final excuse
