

Hellogoodbye, I Was It On Your Keyboard

There exists a melody
That just might change your mind
If only I knew the key
To sing to make you mine

Then I saw it on your keyboard
And you saw it on my sleeve
I never knew a heart existed
Outside of make believe
Till I read it on your keyboard
I knew at least I might just have a chance
To catch a shooting star

There exists a star above
That always steals my stare
And there exists a star on stage
That never seems to care

I saw it on your keyboard
And you saw it in my eyes
I didn't mean to scare you
You just seem really nice
And when I read it on your keyboard
I knew at least I might just have a chance
To catch a shooting star
