

HerolnVain, Born As One

My life, my way, my soul, my everything
My world, my mind, my thoughts, my place to be

My life
My mind
My place to be

Our every step is their mistake
The path we walk is filled with regrets
No matter what, no matter where
We are the force that they have to reckon with

We are the fire burning bright
Leaving nothing in our path
Every one of us is a spark
But together we're more than that

Let's rise our hands with common sense
We're not to be guided - we're to lead the way

Are we to blame for all this atrociousness?
We all live under the same leadership

Let's rise our hands with common sense
We're not to be guided - we're to lead the way
We can make this world a better place
So let's start from ourselves

Are we to blame for all this atrociousness?
We all live under the same leadership

We are the fire burning bright
Leaving nothing in our path
Every one of us is a spark
But together we're more than that

We're all born as one
We're not to divide
