

Honestly, I Dont Know

You never look my way
You don't even care
Do I freak you out?
I can't help it if I stare
I'd give you everything
If you'd show me what to do
But I'd settle for one glance
After all you've put me through
So tired of being nothing
Something's got to give
I've got to do something
Something
'Cause I...
I don't know what to do
Tripped up over you
I'm helpless here
Why can't you read my mind?
Stuck inside my head
I lose my point of view
You make such a mess of me
Does it matter what I do?
I'm tired of being nothing
Something's got to give
Can we just be something
Anything
'Cause I...
I don't know what to do
Tripped up over you
I'm helpless here
Why can't you read my mind?
And I...
I don't know what to say
You always turn away
No, you don't even know that I'm alive
I've got to say something
So tired of being nothing
I've got to do something
Anything
I don't know what to do
Tripped up over you
I'm helpless here
Why can't you read my mind?
And I...
I don't know what to say
You always turn away
No, you don't even know that I'm alive
'Cause I...
I don't know what to do
Tripped up over you
I'm helpless here
Why can't you...
Why can't you...
And I...
I don't know what to say
You always turn away
No, you don't even know that I'm alive
