Hootie & The Blowfish, Earth Stopped Cold At Da

Another reason to doubt me Another teardrop falls Cant wait for a friend when loneliness calls Another kiss in the basement Pour salt on my tongue No one cries for heros left unsung

Look at me when Im talking to you Look at me in the eyes Then look away and tell me why...why

Another tasteless movie Another kiss goodnight Could be a dark oasis in my life Another icon smashed to pieces By yesterdays romance Another hated person no more chances

Look at me when Im talking to you Look at me in the eyes Then look away and tell me why...why

Playin with a happy boy A cold place for a man Familiar faces in a foreign land

The hands kept spinning around the face But the earth stopped cold at dawn For a moment, then moved on For a moment, then moved on...
