

How Like A Winter, Vampiric Serenade

I pretend you and I'm to blame for I'm the one who has waited for you all your life I've seen you grow up I've seen you fell down in loves that I've only dreamed

Feel my eyes
feel my breath
feel my heart
feel my teeth
I'll feel your blood
feel you

Taste my sun, taste my nights I'll taste your innermost light with all my love and my hate
'cause the morning can't wait

You will get married to the night and you'll become my lover under Her eyes

Let my kiss wrap you...
Forever

But you won't leave your dream to haunt for blood, so I'm tight on your bloody breast and feed is so sweet

inside my old grave
and in my eternal sleep
I'm waiting again...

Feel my eyes
feel my teeth
feel you

Sunlight now blesses the sky
but he won't see that I cry
'cause everything is so sad
in my eternal thirst
