Hozier, Empire Now

Sun coming up on a dream come around One hundred years from the empire now Sun coming up on a world that's easy now One hundred years from One hundred years from

Sun coming up on a dream come around One hundred years from the empire now Sun coming up on a world that's easy now One hundred years from One hundred years from

After all, darling, I wouldn't sell the world The way that things are turning If it falls, I would hold on for all it's worth The future's so bright it's burning

Sun coming up on a dream come around One hundred years from the empire now Sun coming up on a world that's easy now One hundred years from One hundred years from

The martyrs of our revolution
Their spinning caused the earth to shake
The problem brought its own solution
They power now the world we've made

After all, darling, I wouldn't sell the world For all the gold or sterling If it falls, I would hold on for all it's worth The future's so bright it's burning

Sun coming up on a dream come around One hundred years from the empire now Sun coming up on a world that's easy now One hundred years from One hundred years from
