

Hunter, Breakout And Be Free

I know a boy who thinks he's white
But in my mind he's black as night
His soul is calling out for more
But he doesn't see yet what's in store

Break out and be free, ride the wave that you see
Let it take you where you to be

You're magical when you take to flight

And like a bird, you mystify
For those who marvel at your ways
You speak to them and they don't why

Mister will you just be beautiful
Learn to let darkness go
You were meant to have to fight
Your finished now and you have the right