Hurricane Dean, Flat Random Noise

there is someone looking up to me at least i thought so but now she is changing her behaviour she looks away, embarrassing me and i can not ignore right in my head, i got the choice between black in black and flat random noise right in my head, i got the choice between black in black and flat random noise

such a beautiful girl in a beautiful world makes me losing my mind leaves the troubles behind my hopes and my dreams live in you like my fears and my worries do i feel close i feel distant but well you are my heaven, you are my hell
