

Hurts, Hold on to Me feel within your face like something that's not belong here staring at the window holding back tears

looking for the people we both know when did we go and shadows moving there's so many words in that saying

but this is not the way
not the way
that mean to be
and I know right now
it hurts
but don't give up on my
and I know this shit is burning I won't take you down with me

when you feel like let it go that's who I hold on
that's who I hold on to me and you know that saying sorry never be my strength so please forgive me you ware not the only one feeling lonely looking for somebody we wants knew with so much too loose
