

iamamiwhoami, Fountain

What lies beyond the (?) of the woods
Dust to dust so we leave for good
When no ones gone to places, I start to run Until I find places where nobody's gone

My, my, my weight on your consience
With ease I go back to the start

Someones at the fountain,
With time
there's one who left me
someones at the fountain
With sigh
The force from the sea

Now you know it's all ripe
hold tight
they wash beneath me

going through defending gold turning hell there's no sight of hope though my body's aching we have to push on for every sight, a new line is drawn

Someones at the fountain,
With time
someones at the fountain
With sigh
The force from the sea

hold tight

from watching eyes I blind it off to grant my stories in (?) of God

hold tight
