

Idina Menzel, Small World

I'm standing in the field
My feet lift off the ground
No one here will see me
No one will hear me now

I'm brushing off the rain
While climbing through the clouds
Nobody can see me
No one can hear me now

Goodbye gravity
Goodbye enemies
I'm going up to a place where the world is small
Where I can fly above it all
If I don't make it see my soul
From here I'm weightless
And you sound so famous
And the world is small
And the world is small

Still rising towards the dark
Don't care what's down below
Coz no one can see me
And no one has to know

The atmosphere is lonely
And beautiful
I don't miss a thing I used to know
I used to know

Goodbye gravity
Goodbye enemies
I'm going up to a place where the world is small
Where I can fly above it all
If I don't make it see my soul
From here I'm weightless
And you sound so famous
And the world is small
I feel so tall

If there's nothing to break my fall
It's ok., I've seen it all
And maybe I was always small
But I could fly before I crawled
If I don't make to sing my song
From here I'm weightless
No stars are famous
And the world is small
