

Imagine Dragons, My Fault

I took a walk on a Saturday night,
fog in the air,
just to make my mind seem clear
where do I go from here?
I see my breath pushing steam through the air,
shaking hands run through my hair,
my fears, where do I go from here?

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.

Walking down to the waters edge,
asking why I'm here instead of home,
now I stand alone.
I stop to stare at the ocean side
Im breathing in just to feel it's side with his like you were here with me.

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.

Oh its on the wall, its loud,
its in the brightest light,
its when the world is moving.
Oh its in the faintest cry,
its in the lovers eye,
its when I need you most,
And dont you know,

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.

Is it my fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
My fault, is it my fault?
We've been missing each other,
We've been missing each other.
