

Imagine Dragons, Wrecked

Days pass by
And my eyes stay dry
And I think that I am OK
Till I find myself in conversation fading away

The way you smile
The way you walk
The time you took
To teach me all that you had taught
Tell me how am I supposed to move

These days I am becoming everything that I hate
Wishing you were around
But now it's too late
My mind is a place that I can't escape your ghost

Sometimes I wish that I could wish it all away
One more rainy day with you
Sometimes I wish that I could see you one more day
One more rainy day

I am a wreck without you here
I am a wreck since you've been gone
I've tried to put this all behind me
I think I was wrecked all along
Yes I am a wreck

They say that the time will heal and the pain will go away
But everything, it reminds me of you and it comes in waves
The way you laugh and your shoulders shook
The time you took to teach me all that you had taught
Tell

tell me how am I supposed to move

These days I am becoming everything that I hate
Wishing you were around
But now it's too late
My mind is a place that I can't escape your ghost

Sometimes I wish that I could wish it all away
One more rainy day with you
Sometimes I wish that I could see you one more day
One more rainy day

I am a wreck without you here
I am a wreck since you've been gone
I've tried to put this all behind me
I think I was wrecked all along
Yes I am a wreck
