

Iron Wine, Woman King

blackbird claw, raven wing under the red sunlight long clothesline, two shirt sleeves waving as we go by hundred years, hundred more someday we may see a woman king, wristwatch time slowing as she goes to sleep black horse fly, lemonade jar on the red ant hill garden worm, cigarette ash on the window sill
hundred years, hundred more
woman king, sword in hand swing at some evil and bleed black hoof mare, broken leg eye on the shot gun shell age old dog, hornet nest built in the big church bell
woman king, bloodshot eye thumb down and starting to weep
