

Ivy Levan, Killing You (feat. Sting)

[Ivy:]

I want our home to burn it down
I want nobody when somebody's around

[Sting:]

I won't scream, howl the moon
But the reason that I'm howling is you!

[Ivy:]

Oh, oh well, I hope it's warm in hell!

[Ivy & Sting:]

Oh, oh well I hope it's warm in hell!
'Cause no one's ever gonna need somebody more than I need you
and no one's ever gonna hurt somebody more than I hurt you
You know it's true, the things that I do and I'm killing you
The things I do and I'm killing you

[Ivy:]

You see, love is war, love is blind
We could've meet it if we just took the time

[Sting:]

To figure out where we were headed
Love will take you for a ride if you let it!

[Ivy:]

Oh, oh well, I hope it's warm in hell!

[Ivy & Sting:]

Oh, oh well I hope it's warm in hell!
'Cause no one's ever gonna need somebody more than I need you
and no one's ever gonna hurt somebody more than I hurt you
You know it's true, the things that I do and I'm killing you
The things I do and I'm killing you

[Ivy:]

The words right off of my lips
Promise till the death tear us part
Now, the only thing that's keeping me
Is tearing out your heart!

[Ivy & Sting:]

'Cause no one's ever gonna need somebody more than I need you (I need you)
and no one's ever gonna hurt somebody more than I hurt you
You know it's true (you know it's true), the things that I do and I'm killing you
The things I do and I'm killing you (killing you)
The things I do and I'm killing you (killing you)
(I need you)
The things I do and I'm killing you.
