

Jaci Velasquez, Something

How i wonder why
Didn't you feel something?
Wasn't your heart jumping?
Didn't you have chills running down your spine?
Weren't you infatuated?
Weren't you illuminated?
Didn't you hear music playing?

I wonder why
I saw clouds breaking
Felt my whole world changing
So how could you just say it
"Goodbye"
Didn't it mean something
Surely you felt something
How could there be nothing
In your eyes
Come on and say something
Baby, you gotta do something
How could there be nothing
There inside

I wonder why
Footsteps down the hall
Another tear on my face
Words you'll never say
Race through my mind
Didn't it mean something
Surely you had to feel something
How could there be nothing
In your eyes

Come on and say something
Baby, you gotta do something
Don't leave me here all by myself
Didn't it mean something
Surely you had to feel something
How could there be nothing
In your eyes

I saw clouds breaking
Felt my whole world changing
So how could you be saying
"Goodbye"
