

Jack Foster III, Cats Got Nine

I constantly die every day of my life
But at least I'm safe from pain and consequence
I constantly breathe, my heart constantly beats
There's a constant refrain from the blood and the heat
Cause I live much deeper than death

Further from the edge than where I die
Further from the edge than where I hurt
Further from the edge than where I cry
I live, I live further from the edge

Cat's Got Nine
I've got a multiverse
Stitch in time
For one small universe
Cat's got nine
I'm down to one
While I'm living and not living life

I am me; here, there, everywhere
Nowhere safe from not living life
I am free from suffering pestilence
I suffer from ignorance and I'm cheating life
Cause I'll die much deeper than death

Further from the edge than where I run
Further from the edge than where I laugh
Further from the edge than where I love
I'll die, I'll die further from the edge

Cat's Got Nine
I've got a multiverse
Stitch in time
For one small universe
Cat's got nine
I'm down to one
While I'm living and not living life
