

Jack Foster III, Nirvana In The Notes

When Shelly plays he's got the faith to put the world in Heaven
The music flows into his soul to the joy of all his brethren
The music shines upon his face
'til he's no longer with us He's somewhere beyond the atmosphere past the Aurora Borealis.

He's gone to Nirvana in the Notes
He's gone to the ecstasy of harmony
He's gone to somewhere in the zone right now
He's gone.
Shelly's found Nirvana in the Notes

If I could find the place he's found then I would be in Heaven To be at one with the Universe through music without question Is someplace to aspire to more grand than any palace to soar beyond the atmosphere past the 'roura Borealis

He's gone to Nirvana in the Notes
He's gone to the ecstasy of harmony
He's gone to somewhere in the zone right now
He's gone.
