

Jack Greene, Too Much Of You

I've got too much of you still on my mind
Too much of you still on my mind thinking of you almost all the time
Missing you since you left me behind I've got too much of you still on my mind

When you left I thought maybe it was best for we disagreed and quarreled all the time
Now I'm not so sure I should have let you go
For I've got too much of you still on my mind
Too much of you still on my mind...
I've got too much of you still on my mind
