

Jackson United, Undertow

some things never change
lonely and deranged some things stay the same what would you say? what would you do? yesterday these lies were true what fades away for me and you a harder way i'm coming too i'll just, wait til you're asleep to spill my secrets to me

wait til you're asleep
spill my secrets

i'll pretend, that i don't see you there
pretend, you're gone
i'll pretend, that i don't really care pretend, you're wrong

i misunderstood the power of a guilty conscience and would you like to know what really haunts us? and could you let the big things go? the power of the undertow

pretend, you're gone
pretend, you're gone

it's a peace i never knew i'll battle til i'm blue alone forever true
only to me

well everybody loves rock and roll but they never stick around for long they get tired of the same old song all the gold just turns to stone
