

James Arthur, Deja Vu

You never know what you're missing until you've had it
Now you're my living addiction
And I'm an addict
I've hit my limit I'm giving in to the habit
Breaking my heart
You're breaking my heart

I used to pray that the devil give me an angel
I don't want nobody thinking that I'm ungrateful
But how can something so heavenly be so painful
You're breaking my heart
You're breaking my heart

Like I'm caught in a wave in a way a
And it's pulling me to you
It's like I'm stuck in a cycle of pain
But I don't wanna lose you
Don't wanna lose you

it's deja vu
It's killing me
No matter what I do
I keep falling back to you

It's deja vu
Played on repeat
No matter what I do
I can't stop this deja deja vu

Your love /6x

You connect the new me
To the old me
You're illuminati
You control me
You been keeping secrets
Never told me
Can't say goodnye
And i don't know why!

You'e my lifeline in the night time
When i jhust nbeed a taste
You';re teh red winde
And the white lies
When i deaf my escape
You're mty wartime withe a peace sign
And i die every day
You fuck me iup
I can't get enough of you

it's deja vu
It's killing me
No matter what I do
I keep falling back to you

It's deja vu
Played on repeat
No matter what I do

Your love /6x
