

James Gang, The Devil Is Singing Our Song

Tonight the rain is crying on my windowpane
The clock is slowly chiming its lonely refrain
Tonight the cold wind blows through the screen that you didn't close
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song

As black as never seen, some darkness tonight
Seem that it would be better to leave than fight
All this time that we had been wrong, fate was against us all along
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song

Every time I see you it costs me another heartache
But it's just too late for us
I have to move along
Tonight I swear the devil
Is-a singing our song

Every time I see you it costs me another heartache
But it's just too late for us
I have to move along
Tonight I swear the devil the devil the devil the devil
Is singing our song

A cruel lonesome wind is howling through the trees
Even the dogs are barking at my knees
All this time that we have been wrong, fate was against us all along
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song - uh
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song - can't you hear him singing baby?
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song - oh oo oh
Tonight I swear the devil is singing our song
I swear
I can hear him laughing at me, baby - ha ha ha
Tonight, I swear I hear him singing our song baby
