

James Morrison, Stay Like This

It doesn't even take one minute
To tear each other down
Pushin too far too hard
I tried my best to hurt you I'll admit it
Just to feel something now
Pushin too far too hard
When did I get ungrateful for your love?
When did I stop believing we still could?
Who's right or wrong, who gets the blame
When you hold me all of that just falls away
Can't we just stay like this, so real, so close
Does anything have to change?
I still trust all the years gone by, inside I know
There's nothing that I'd miss, if we just stay like this
Now we're right back at the start now it's finished
But this time I'll do ya proud
Like the first time, first time
And every step I ever try to take will Lead me to your side
I'll love ya loud
Though I don't deserve it, deserve
When did I start treating you so bad
It makes me ashamed to question what I had
Who's right or wrong, who gets the blame?
When you hold me all of that just falls away
Like nothings changed, and our love's still safe
Can't we just stay like this, so real, so close
Does anything have to change?
I still trust all the years gone by, inside I know
There's nothing that I'd miss, if we just stay like this Oooooo, right here, right now, like this
Oh we shouldn't give up no
Can't we just stay like this, so real, so close
Does anything have to change?
I still trust all the years gone by, inside I know
There's nothing that I'd miss, if we just stay like this
