

Jann Arden, I Know You

I know that you're sorry
I know you've been drunk all week
I know that you did not mean to Spit out those profanities
I know you're a loser
I know you've had bad skin all your life
I also know you will never find a wife
Someone who could love someone so hard
And you are
And you are
I don't think you're ugly
I just think the world has made you weary
I doubt very much you even hear anything I say to you
What's that on your shoulder?
Don't you know it's pulling you apart?
Every vein connected to your heart
Nobody could love someone so hard
I know you well enough to say
You need to start again
I hope you never underestimate yourself my friend
My friend
I think that you need me
Even though you tell yourself you don't
I will love you even though you won't
I will be your confidant
Won't you let me hold you?
Won't you let me kiss you on the mouth?
Oh I know you'll tell me to get out
It doesn't matter any way
I know you well enough to say
You need to start again
I hope you never underestimate yourself my friend
My friend, My friend, My friend
I know you so well
I know you so well
I know you so well
