

Jax Jones, Never Be Lonely - feat. Zoe Wees

(Watcha'-watcha' gon' do?)

Tell me how it feels
To know, you'll never be lonely again
You spend the rest of your life
Knowing you, you
Will never be lonely again and again and again

So tell me how it feels
To know
That I'll never leave you alone
To know
That you've got the freedom to choose
You, will never be lonely again and again and again

So tell me how it feels

So tell me how it feels
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel-)

Who'd thought we'd make it
Look at where we are
Is this what dreams are made of?
Here and now, I'm crossing my heart

With my hands in the air, I'll make enough
To always stay by your side
I will be there on your darkest night
I'm here to the day that I die

So tell me how it feels
To know, you'll never be lonely again
You spend the rest of your life
Knowing you, you
Will never be lonely again and again and again

So tell me how it feels
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
So tell me how it feels
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
(And again and again, I feel lonely again)
So tell me how it feels

With my hands in the air I'll make enough
To always stay by your side (Oh-oh)
I will be there on your darkest night
I'm here to the day that I die
So tell me how it feels
