

Jay Delano, Rockstar

I remember when you was young, you pictured yourself livin' large
You was havin' these dreams about the pretty girls and fancy cars
Your mama always told you that you have to be a good man
And your daddy was gone, and you was all alone
All you wann be is a Rockstar

A superstar

That's what you are

All you wanna be is a Rockstar

You where livin' a normal life whith a steady job from 9 to 5

And the boys and the girls from ya hood laughin' at you all the time

But you din't really care about what other people say

Cause you already knew, what you wanted to do

RAP

yeah, that's all I wanna be

I don't care what these people thinkin' about me

There's a lot of you folks who doubt me

But I ain't really givin' a damn about these

Please just get off my case

let me live my life be out ma face

Let me holla at the honey couse we're havin' a date

And I Don't really wanna make mami wait

Let's go!

It ain't about how you wanna live your life

And all you gotta do is just be satisfied

It don't no matter what it is

You gotta do what's best for you

When you already know...
