

Jay Sean, Neon

I keep running, running, running back to us
Any time that I think I'm back you disappear just a little bit
And I want it, I want it, want it, want it more then any thing
More then I should and I don't know how to quit
And I've been thinking maybe I am in your arms I just don't know yet
Is it all in my head? Is it all a lie?
Well I know that maybe one day in time it all makes sense
I am chasing the wind
I'll know what the finish line
And I can see the light burning up the sky
I can hear every
And every think neon, neon, neon, neon
And every think neon, neon, neon, neon
You falling, falling, falling all over again
But I don't feel the groan I know I'll getting up again
And nothing, nothing, nothing, nothing can ever take my eyes of you
You all that I ever I knew
I'm seeing gin the air
And I can see the light burning up the sky
I can hear every
And every think neon,
And I can see the light burning through the night
I can hear every
And every think neon, neon, neon, neon
And every think it's neon, neon
I know it's calling me I can see the light t burning up the sky
I can hear every
And every think neon, every thing's neon
And I can see the light burning through the night
I can hear every
And every think neon, neon, neon, neon
And every think neon, neon, neon, neon
And I know, I know it's calling me