JayMay, Snow White

What you look like Snow white and so on Reminds me of what I can't quite put my finger upon The key piano and otherwise Secret upon secret I promise to hide I love you but I'm gonna keep quiet about it I love you but I'm keepin' my mouth shut about it Walking back in to the living room Where I do nothing like sing Or play piano until the cow comes home And when the phone rings I don't dare answer I love you but I'm gonna keep quiet about it I love you but I'm keepin' my mouth shut about it Outside the window a shower scattered Drop after drop of sound pitter-pattered Pitter-pattered, pitter-pattered The wall is white and streaked and splattered The pipes are broken, the leak, oh, no matter to me 'Cause I prefer this distraction When the piano calls off key I love you but I'm gonna keep quiet about it I love you but I'm keepin' my mouth shut about it
