

Jenn Bostic, Missin' A Man

I wish he was here to brush the hair back from my eyes
Tell me I'm more beautiful than any sunset sky
I wish that he could hold me, kiss me every night
'Cause the miles between he and I have got me
Missin' a Man, Missin a Man /2x

I can almost hear him singing, completely out of tune
Laughing so much louder than anybody in the room
I can almost feel his whisper against my skin
But when I find the light, I don't find him and I'm Missin' a Man, Missin a Man /2x

For some reason life is keeping us apart
I don't know why it has to be so hard
Someday I know, it'll all workout
But right now
I'm missin' a man, missin' a man
Missin' a Man, Missin a Man

I wish there were two sets of shoes by the door
I wish his dirty jeans were in the middle of the floor
I wish that I could blame him for the dishes left to do
But most of all, I wish he knew
I've been missin' a man, missin' a man
Missin' a Man, Missin a Man

For some reason life is keeping us apart
I don't know why it has to be so hard
Someday I know, it'll all workout
But right now

Missin' a man, missin' a man /3x
Missin' a man

For some reason life is keeping us apart
I don't know why it has to be so hard
Someday I know, it'll all workout
But right now
Missin' a man, missin' a man /4x
