

Jettie, At The Cross

I'm at the cross, at roads we met, with tales that died
Houses from then seem so proud but still the same
I just go for change I just go for change
"you know they change they will not stay the same"

they've got a hold on me, the memories & hands all over me, you've got hands all over me
I just go for change I just go for change
I know the words to say
"you know they've changed, & will not stay the same"

Hands all over me, you've got hands all over me
Hands all over me, you've got hands all over me
I just go for change I just go for change
I know the words to say
"you know they've changed & will not stay the same"
So, you change, you change, you go.. gone
So you go
