

Jewel, Two Hearts Breaking

You're the ship, I'm the wreck
You're the bomb, I'm a tick
You're the pause before the fall
I'm a crash that follows it all

We are one, we are whole
We are one whole dying soul
We're the crash, the burn,
The dream that turns from ecstasy to aching,
We are the sound of two hearts breaking

You're the blink, I'm the eye
You're the shiver, I'm the knife
You're the clutch, I'm the break
You're the emptiness I make

We are one, we are whole
We are one whole dying soul
We're the crash, the burn,
The dream that turns from ecstasy to aching,
We are the sound of two hearts breaking

And drying tears from crying all these years
And I know this is your nightmare come true
I never wanted this for you
But I'm the teeth, you're the heart
With the start of the inhale and a scream
You're the not waking,
I'm the not dreaming

Oh we,
We are one, we are whole
We are one whole dying soul
We're the crash, the burn,
The dream that turns from ecstasy to aching,
We are the sound of
We are the sound of two hearts breaking
