

Jimi Hendrix, Valleys Of Neptune

I feel the ocean swaying me washing away all my pains.
See where I used to be wounded,
Remember the scar?
Now you can't see a thing ...
And I don't feel no pain --

Singing about the Valleys of Sunrise Green and blue ... Canyons too Singing about Atlantis love songs.
The Valleys of Neptune is rising.

Mercury liquid ... Emeralds shining Showing me where I came from baby Honey Sun... Pourquise Bed he lays in on the Burning edge Horizon.

I'm sailing on the Bluebirds mission Bubble and curls and tiptoes in the foam See the wind make love to all the ocean... Joy spread and my massage got home

Singing about the Valley of Sunsets Purple and gold... the Armies of the Lord Before ancient Egypt, there were moon trips
The Valleys of Neptune is arising

Look out East coast, but you're gonna have a neighbor,
A rebirth land
Home of the praying Burning Sands.

And we know there were worlds so much older
And they shall rise, and tell us much more the truth of man

I see visions of sleeping peaks erupting releasing all hell that will shake the Earth from end to end And this ain't good news, bad news, or any news it's just the truth, Better save your souls while you can
