

Jimmy Nail, Laura

I can hear the ocean pushing t the bay if I close my eyes then maybe it'll go away everywhere ther'e sunlight and children play for time thought I heard a sign then I realised it was mine the sky's a perfect blue again but if you look it's hard to tell if it's paradise or hell but now I know, Laura summer is a lonely place
oh, Laura
I wish I could see your face when a million birds sing how can I be sad it's s if they know I lost the only chance I had the sky's a perfect blue again
but it might as well be grey
'cause I let you walk away
oh, Laura
I wish I could see your face
oh, Laura
I kissed you in the rain
oh, Laura
how I wish I was home again in winter I was warmer don't make me wait here alone the sun has cast its shadow and it chills me to the bone
oh, Laura
how I wish I was coming home
oh, Laura
I wish I could see your face
oh, Laura
oh, Laura
how I wish I was home again
