

joan, So Shy (feat. Fismoll)

You don't stand out from the crowd
You always have an average smile

Your mind is fine

I wanna cut your stress
I wanna cut your doubts

Be brave man

Your eyes,
They always see the ground
And the wind,
Always blows your hair apart

But I always catch your stare
In a moment when you turn

Ooo, I'm watching your first daring step, watching more of these daring moves

Ooo, I'm watching your first daring step, watching more of these daring moves

Now, all the world knows your guise
And everyone needs your gaze

They love your courage

And you're standing at crossroads
And you must choose the one

It's your time

The one is like you used to be
The new is like the dream

So, what do you think?

Both are messing with your head
There ain't a proper way

Ooo, I'm watching you giving up, watching more of these painful moves

Ooo, I'm watching you giving up, watching more of these painful moves
