

Joe Brooks, For You

I've been wondering just how many more days
'til i see your face
I don't quite know just how to fill this space
Where you used to lie
And i'm aching and i'm breaking inside

And it's all because of you
And it's all because of you
I fall because of you
And i'm all because of you

I don't know just how long i can wait
To see you smile again
I've been wondering just how long i can stay awake
Before my eyes start to bleed
Now i'm aching and i'm breaking inside

And it's all because of you
And it's all because of you
I fall because of you
And i'm all because of you
