

Joel Compass, Run

How am I supposed to love
When all you ever do is run, yeah?
And how are you supposed to love
When you're' have a chance to run

I'm gonna let you run, let you run away
Let you run away as far as I can take
So I will let you win, for you could run away
You can run away as far as I can take

How am I supposed to love
When all you ever do is run, yeah?
Cause one minute you're there and the next you're gone
Oh, oh, I'm forgiving you for so much, oh, oh
And you're treating me like I did you wrong
Cause it's about to.. the place for you
And it will always be there, in my heart!

I'm gonna let you run, let you run away
Let you run away as far as I can take
So I will let you win, for you could run away
You can run away as far as I can take
