Johnossi, Lie Lie Die

Your mind it slips cause you're getting old And there ain't no new chapter to unfold In the book you've been writing all your life The ending don't seem right It keeps you up at night Oh, it hunts you in your sleep

lie, lie, lie, lie, lie, lie, die

But you remember the time when you were just a little boy The Christmas tree and the presents full of toys No concern about when tomorrow comes You and your plastic gun It would protect you in your sleep And problems left alone

lie, lie, lie, lie, lie, lie, die

If somebody would come by just to say hello
A kind stroke on my cheek before I go Cause soon my heart can't provide my body with blood
And I will just give up
And slowly slip away
On to an unfamiliar place lie, lie, lie, lie, lie, lie, die, lie, die, die, die, die, die, die, oh, oh, oh

What a great suprise, what a great surprise When you die, die, die, die, die, oh oh oh oh
