

Jordan Davis, Cool Anymore (ft. Julia Michaels)

so hold your head work the room smile like you ain't nervous and be the life of every party whit all your friends laugh it off roll your eyes when they tell you that you're perfect yoah you can be that whit all of them but you don't have to be cool anymore show me the side that nobody else knows drop me the act whot your keys at the door lose the mirrors , I see through the smoke save all that for the rest of the world come on let me love you girl and don't you know that I am already yours you don't have to be cool anymore puff your chst crack a drink whit your boys like you like to and you internalize eberything tat's wrong but I know you and I know when we go home you're slow dancing in the kitchen whit me all night long I know you and I know when we're alone

you will hold me better better than anyone

save all that for the rest of the world
you don't have to be cool anymore
