

Josef Salvat, Punchline

I miss you more than I have so far tonight
You weren't joking when you said you'd left nothing behind
Now I'm wandering round the flat
And smoking where I like
It's never been as empty as it is tonight
And it's huge
Now I'm alone between its walls
Hard to believe we used to think that it seemed so small

I did what I thought I had to
To protect you
Did my best to
Keep my beasts at bay
Too late I realized
That you had never played your whole hand in
No you delivered
On my bluff
And ran straight back to him

Hard to believe
The joke was always on me
Your punch line was so low
You know just how to hit them home

I miss you more than I have so far tonight
I can't see an out cause you're fogging up my mind
It was far too hot to sleep
So I took myself outside
To screw you out on a summers night
The odds were good
But there's no leaving you behind
So I learned patience
And placed all my bets on time.

I did what I thought I had to
To protect you
Did my best to
Keep my beasts at bay
Too late I realized
That you had never played your whole hand in
No you delivered on my bluff
And ran straight back to him

Hard to believe
The joke was always on me
Your punch line was so low
You know just how to hit them home

Oh what a mess I'm in

Hard to believe
The joke was always on me
Your punch line was so low

Oh what a mess I'm in
