Joshua Kadison, I'll Just Let My Piano Play

Been working on a song, for you a simple melody. Something just to let you know, how much you mean to me.

Tryin' to find the perfect lines, but the words put up a fight. No matter how hard i try i just cant say it right, i love you so much more than words could ever say. So ill just let my piano play

How could i describe the way your eyes look into mine, i could never do justice to the way your love makes me shine, i love you so much more than words could ever say, so ill just let my piano play

if i could turn my voice to thunder as i sing these words to you, if i could be the morning sunlight on your face. maybe then my song would do, but i am just a minstral and music is my trade.

how could i write a song for you, when your every love song i have ever played. i love you so much more than words could ever say, so i'll just let my piano play.

if i could turn my voice to thunder as i sing these words to you, if i could be the morning sunlight on your face maybe then my song would do, but i am just a minstral and music is my trade.
