Journey, Karma

Oh baby, your face is dark, and your eyes are wild. Oh baby, you look to me as if you're still a child.

Your innocence to me is so hard to believe, Just a spell in my past, tell me, how long will you last.

Oh baby, you stole my lonely heart for you. Oh baby, I wanna tell you what you can do.

I no longer care about the things we shared, you always had your way. Won't you find a place today, won't you find a place to stay.
