

Julie Doiron, The Longest Winter

It's been a long long winter
Don't remember them this cold
Not even the prank calls
Are helping to pass the time anymore

So take away my guitar
Take away the chords
Take away the shitty links until
You better take my heart

And don't bother calling back
No really, don't bother unless you know
Spring has come to me for good
Takes almost an hour to warm myself most times

There aren't enough blankets without you here
And now I wonder why I bother anyway

So give me all the warmth
Give me all your smiles
Give me all the sunshine baby
And give me back my heart

And I hope you think to call me
When you're here it is raining
But I know Spring won't come to me so soon
But maybe we'll be ready to see you
