

Justincase, Change My Mind

hear me girl, i'll be on my way hear my tears, cuz i think i cried your name ohh, i trusted but you just left me shattered but i still want you to know i worked so hard, to rebuild these broken walls but your touch, is in every shaking brick ohh, i trusted but you just left me shattered

and i still want you to know that if i have to wait till summer to remind myself of your eyes i guess ill have to sing all my lonely and even though its killin me to think of you all the time im still wanting you to change my mind and its all right, if you saved all your love cuz you know its best if used on me sometimes i glance behind when i think theres no one looking to see the mess of wreckage where a lovers promise should be

i guess ill have to sing of my lonely cuz even though its killing me to think of you all the time

youve got a piece of mine a part you took while breakin my heart i'd like your piece of mine the kind i need to make a new start i miss you, and i knew that i would and im burnin, and it stings of your love

to remind myself of your eyes
