

jxdn, Comatose

I don't care enough to miss you
After all the shit we've been through
My heart's comatose, comatose

You were my best friend, now you're dead to me
Said you'd become my worst memory
You played the victim in reality
You never were

Straight coats and empty cabinets
Ashes from all the mess you left
New lease without you
I confess that I'm happy you're gone

I don't care enough to miss you
After all the shit we've been through
My heart's comatose, comatose
I don't care enough to miss you
After all the shit we've been through
My heart's comatose, comatose

So used to pain that it's my remedy
Easy to hate, I gave you everything
Funny that you're the one that ran away
You left me first

Straight coats and empty cabinets
Ashes from all the mess you left
New lease without you
I confess that I'm happy you're gone

I don't care enough to miss you
After all the shit we've been through
My heart's comatose, comatose
I don't care enough to miss you
After all the shit we've been through
My heart's comatose, comatose

You wasted all my fucking time
Were never really in my life
You were further than I could imagine
I loved you but fuck you

I don't care enough to miss you
After all the shit we've been through
My heart's comatose, comatose

I don't care enough, care enough
My heart's comatose
My heart's comatose, comatose
