

Kaiser Chiefs, Admire You

You said that stranger things have happened
I don't know why you're laughing
I wish I'd never asked

There must be something in the waters
That's making it much stronger
It's building up to life

Do you admire me like I admire you?
Do you admire me like I admire you?

Lying low, it might be cause your easy
Or just because you're near to me
Or maybe cause you're new

There must be a combination of everything
Because I haven't seen a lot of things
As interesting as you

Do you admire me like I admire you?
Do you admire me like I admire you?

And I thought you were a nervous wreck
And it turned out that you were
I heard you were a bag of nerves
And it turned out that you were
Turned out that you were
Turned out that you were

I thought when you said you needed me
You meant that you needed me
You just need me in the head

Do you admire me like I admire you?
Do you admire me like I admire you?

And I thought you were a nervous wreck
And it turned out that you were
I heard you were a bag of nerves
And it turned out that you were
Turned out that you were
Turned out that you were

Do you admire me like I admire you?
Do you admire me like I admire you?

And I thought you were a nervous wreck
And it turned out that you were
I heard you were a bag of nerves
And it turned out that you were
Turned out that you were
Turned out that you were
