Kaskade, Room for Happiness (feat. Skylar Grey)

Sometimes I wish I never felt, The influence of you Cuz now I feel the disconnect, Like an open wound

Where you once were, there is a space, That runs as deep as hell But every morning when I wake I tell myself

Don't be fooled by your emptiness, There's so much more room for happiness Don't be fooled by your emptiness, There's so much more room for happiness

yeah, yeah, yeah

Sometimes it's worse to have lost, Than to have never had at all Cuz it's a curse to feel love And to feel it all dissolve

Where you once were, there is a space That runs as deep as hell But every morning when I wake I tell myself

Don't be fooled by your emptiness, There's so much more room for happiness Don't be fooled by your emptiness, There's so much more room for happiness

Don't be fooled by your emptiness, There's so much more room for happiness Don't be fooled by your emptiness, There's so much more room for happiness

yeah, yeah, yeah /x5
