

Kataklysm, The Vultures Are Watching

Friend or traitor?
Sometimes I wonder
If these tears should
Turn to laughter
If your malice
Was from the start
Maybe you love to rub
These wounds with salt
Cross my path
In the weakest time
You turned your back
In the blink of an eye
Aim my heart for target
This is something I
Shall never forget

War of the words
And war of trust
Bring the changes
Left to stay
Never doubt the Meaning of hate
Imploding minds
Deaf to blind
Reaping havoc
Causing static
All the fools
Become systematic
Break the walls down
To the generic
You read the mind
Of the manic

Since time heals
I've regained
The spirit to live
Wiser and smarter
And better than ever
I run through the Steps I find
I live to die
As strangers say
Filled with hopes
Of a better day
Flesh of the burning
Souls searching
This is my journey

You pray on me
The vultures are watching
You stay with me
The vultures are watching
You'll feed from me
The vultures are watching
You steal from me
The vultures are watching

Confrontation is bloodshed
First mistake was
To underestimate
One life, one time
Destined to make it right
Crisis to bend all I stand for March towards things
I would die for
This is who I am
This soul will never end
This will be my last stand
This soul will never end
My last stand
It will never end

They're watching
